The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art cited on the attached from PTO-892 and/or on the Information Disclosure Statement filed by the Applicant, is the most relevant prior art known, however, the invention of Claims 1 and 4-12 and distinguishes over the prior art of record for the following reasons.

Claims 1 and 4-12 are drawn to a device wherein the opposed ends and a central longitudinal axis extending between the opposed ends, the first and second parts each having two longitudinal extending side edge portions which extend generally parallel with the longitudinal axis, are respective side edge portions of the first part being adapted to cooperate with respective side edge portions of the second part to connect the two parts together in the assembled position, said first and second parts overlapping when in the assembled position and being connected together by relative movement in the axial direction so as to adopt the assembled position, said first and second parts being partially circular when viewed in cross-section, the first part comprising a major segment of a circle and the second part forming a minor segment of a circle, and said side edge portions of the first or second part including a recessed section which substantially extends from one end thereof to the other for receiving the side edge portion of the other part. Prior art is silent to the limitations listed above. Claims 11 and 12 have been rejoined because they were originally restricted wherein the claims were drawn to another species.
